DB Netz – Experience with trackside approval

DB NETZE

- The cooperation with ERA is ok.

- Big workload for the preparation of the application.

- The functions list and issues log is the key element of the application dossier and quite complex.

- The internal process is still going through a learning curve / our stakeholder are continuously improving.

- Trackside approval is not an easy game and quite expensive.

Conclusion:

> A robust process without additional queries (application issues) is highly welcome.
> We must improve our efforts.

Thank you
